HAZARD

- ▲ Risks related to loading and unloading of goods.
- ▲ Fire risks concerning storage or handling of flammable materials.
- ▲ Risk of breathing in or coming into contact with hazardous substances in case of leak.
- ▲ Risks related to motor-vehicle traffic.

IT IS CRUCIAL TO

- Behave with discipline.
- Lift up the guardrail before climbing up on a tanker trailer and lower it down after you step away.
- Attach the motor vehicle to a grounding device before any pumping.
- Be very careful when climbing down from the truck cabin or trailer.
- Wear protective gloves, footwear, helmet and goggles.
- Wear safety goggles when handling valves or hose fittings.
- Wear clothing ensuring sufficient skin protection.
- Be very careful when passing through crossing vehicle routes.
- Follow the instructions of warehouse staff and ask for their assistance in case of any doubt.
- Close all caps and outlet valves, including the top cap of the tanker, after pumping.
- Pump all liquid materials through a hermetically sealed cycle.

If you hear an intermittent sound or warning signal, cease the loading and unloading operations and wait for the instructions of the warehouse staff. Close all access holes and valves. If possible or if you are asked to do so, park your vehicle in a manner so that it does not hinder rescue operations. All strategic zones are equipped with emergency buttons to cease operations. These buttons may only be used by the warehouse staff. If you hear uninterrupted siren sound (evacuation signal) and you cannot re-park your car, turn off the engine and leave the key in the ignition. Then continue along the emergency exit routes according to the instruction of the staff.
